- Ability to work with diverse teams and communicate effectively
- A strong eye for detail and a strive to consistently produce quality work
- A team player who enjoys collaborating with others

We believe a good developer is passionate about their craft and is always eager to learn new things. They care about the quality of their code and work hard to maintain it. They keep the user in mind and think about the future to see the patterns of issues their systems and customers could encounter. They build long term solutions for these issues. They strive to understand how all the pieces of the architecture work together and what state they are in. They understand what makes a good user experience, and can communicate issues across the team as they happen to avoid internal confusion and customer frustration. They are glad to listen to advice and feedback, but are good teachers and share their expertise with the rest of their team.

Standard RYNO Benefits Include:

- Annually paid educational expenses for approved training programs

- Paid Time Off
- Paid Holidays and Birthday
- Medical, Dental, Vision and Life Insurance
- Employer matched SEP-IRAs
- Flexible start times and half-day Friday.
- A casual work environment with lots of coffee and candy.
